

A note about the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Bureau of EMS Online Verification System.

Bureau of EMS staff, in Harrisburg PA, acknowledge several errors with their online verification system, including the inability to search for providers with the Bureau's new seven (7) digit certification number they are assigning to providers.

Additionally, the online verification system may not be fully synced with the Bureau's registry system and providers may appear as expired when in fact they are active and certified.

Please note that if you wish to continue to the Bureau of EMS Online Verification System, you can do so by accessing the link below:

We can only provide an answer as to their current status (active or expired) and if they are certified. We will Not provide this information to anonymous callers; you must provide us a name and telephone number and reason for asking for verification.
